

New Design

Jonathan Clay

I'll be alone for awhile
A little time to find my mind
Although I swear I'll make it out this time

I don't expect you to
Ever understand
What really happened to all of my plans

And I'll be alright
I'll occupy my mind
And I'll be fine
Adopt a new design
A new design

Seems like yesterday
That I used to walk around
My biggest worries were the cracks in the ground

And everything it happens
For a reason's what they say
But it's hard to believing on those days like today

And I'll be alright
I'll occupy my mind
And I'll be fine
Adopt a new design
A new design

To help me ease my mind
To help me ease my mind

So tell me how did it come to be
Was I just too blind to see?
And how did I let it get so far away
From what I had planned?

'Cause the days are getting longer
And the hours hard to pass
With my face against the window
And my breath against the glass

So when will this be over
And when will it be through
And when will I find time
To get my mind off of you?
Off of you?

And I'll be alright
I'll occupy my mind
And I'll be fine
Adopt a new design
A new design

Te help me ease my mind
