

California Winters

Jonny Craig

Well I hate I had to give everything
Well I hate you had to give nothing
To keep this dream alive

It's nights like these
When nightmares
in between nights like these
When we feel so haunted, haunted, haunted
Oh dear girl, you were the one I wanted

Help me forget your name
Help me forget her name

And I won't look back
On the empty California winters
Jesus Christ, we were such great sinners, sinners
I won't let you lie, I won't you like lie
Don't let your love die

If I could take away everything in this world
That reminds me of you
It would be so empty

And even I would to have to start again

Lights and dreams, lights and dreams and lights
Lights and dreams, lights and dreams and lights
Lights and dreams, lights and dreams and lights

Let hate save you
Let hate save you

And I won't look back on these California winters
Jesus Christ, we were just great sinners
Jesus Christ, such great sinners

I won't let you lie
No, I won't let you lie
I won't let your love die
Don't let it die

I can't run from the man that I've become
I can't run from the man that set us apart
She screams for the man that stole her heart

I can't run
She screams for the man that stole her heart
Stole her heart, stole her heart, stole her heart