

Stranger

Jordan Pruitt

(Whoa oh oh-oh)
(Mhmm)

You told me what I wanted to hear
Sounded like you were sincere
I believed every word
You said to me
Now that I know they were lies
And all my tears have been cried
I can see everything
You've been doing

Who, who I thought you were
Isn't who you are
You said you gave your heart
But you were just another player
And I, I see right through you now
You threw words like love around
But you're a liar, you're a faker
Thought I knew you but in truth you're just a
Stranger
You're a stranger

You told me that I was your world
Then you go kissing those girls
I may have been blind but I'm not crazy
You never even apologized
You just lied to me to cover your lies
You're not who I fell for, baby

Who, who I thought you were
Isn't who you are
You said you gave your heart
But you were just another player
And I, I see right through you now
You threw words like love around
But you're a liar, you're a faker
Thought I knew you but in truth you're just a
Stranger
You're a stranger

And if we accidentally meet you'll try to say hello to me
And I'll act like you're any other stranger on a street
(Oooh)

Who, who I thought you were
Isn't who you are
You said you gave your heart
But you were just another player
And I, I see right through you now
You threw your words like love around
But you're a liar, you're a faker
Thought I knew you but in truth you're just a
Stranger

You're a stranger
You're a stranger

You're a stranger
(Ahh ohh ohh)
