

Been So Long

Jorma Kaukonen

Been so long since I belong here
Ever since I left my way
Still I like to be beside you
So, tell me, can I stay?
Beside you

I want you so much
I want your smile
When you smile at me in the morning
And it's been so long since I felt at home in your love

Was it time I, once came running
Down the streets we used to melt
That was when I still had something
Special love for me to give, unto you

See your smile
Laughing, look at me
When you held me tight in the morning
And it's been so long since I felt at home in your love
