

Burning Chains

Jorn Lande

Driving the the pouring rain
My heart's heavy filled with pain
I think of you and of what went wrong
I wonder how I can carry on...oh baby

Like a coin in a wishing well
Keeping secrets I can never tell
Passing roads that lead to hell
As love is slowly dying

Tell me why you said goodbye
And left me in the storm
I'll never know the reason why you're so cold
Always just a fool in love, blinded by your smile
But in your eyes I saw the lying

I surrender - Surrender to the state of heartache
A love pretender - Only you can set me free
You left your burning chains around my soul

Always just a fool in love
Now I pray to the Lord above
Is there a way to stop the crying

I surrender - Surrender to the state of heartache
A love pretender - Since the day you went away
You left eternal pain inside my heart...ooh

Tell me why you said goodbye
And left me in the storm
I'll never know the reason why you're so cold

I surrender...ooh
