

The angel appeared to me last night
I heard the silence between his words
In the shadow the bells were ringing loud
I've been waiting for the call

When I saw the raven flying in from the light
It was the middle of the dream
Voices creeping slowly out of my past telling lies
My future came to my

Who will lead us
Who will guide us the the place
Where the road gets rough
On the edge of a dream
Will we find it
Will we know what we see
On the edge of a dream
In the city in between

Lightning fire and thunder was lost in the night
Beneath my feet the sky was turning red
Surrounded by the flames walking on the wind
Where they came from I don't know
Beyond your future see the pages as they turn
Hear the wisdom they will learn
Do you know truth is more than words

Who will lead us
Who will guide us to the place
Where the road gets rough
On the edge of a dream
Will we find it
Will we know what we see
On the edge of a dream
I've been waiting for the call

Who will lead us
Who will guide us to the place
Where the road gets rough
On the edge of a dream
Will we find it
Will we know what we see
On the edge of a dream
