

Open Season

Josef Salvat

We used to have it all planed,
We thought we knew what it all looked like
We were looking out on the greatest view
We were raised to take a stand,
We were raised to keep an open mind
We believed we'd just sail out through

Down a hundred miles an hour,
Sitting in my palace without any power
Alone in the dark, we're alone in the dark
Thought we could always try a bit harder
But if the dice don't wanna roll in your favor
It falls apart, the fantasy falls apart

This is open season
Time is up, time to be leaving
Get on down this very arbitrary road
Armor up, and say your prayers from underdogs and millionaires
I heard you're better off on your own
But I ain't gonna face this hunt alone

So I'll be needing you
And I know you'd be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together

All the faces were forgotten,
All the tracks we've given up
Only sorry for a moment, no it was nowhere near enough
But I take as it comes, I take it as I only can
I take it all, and run where it goes

This is open season
Time is up, time to be leaving
Get on down this very arbitrary road
Armor up, and say your prayers from underdogs and millionaires
I heard you're better off on your own
But I ain't gonna face this hunt alone

So I'll be needing you
And I know you'd be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together
So I'll be needing you

We're only at the start

So I'll be needing you
And I know you'd be needing me too

We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
So I'll be needing you
And I know you'd be needing me too
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
And I believe in you
And I know you believe in me too,
We're in this game together
We're in this game together!
