

Brass Bed

Josh Gracin

Baby, the clock on the wall is lying
It's not really that late
It's too cold outside to be walkin' around
In the streets of this town
Anywhere, anything you have to be can wait

Why don't you (baby) stay with me
Share all your secrets tonight
We can make believe
Morning sun never will rise
Come and lay you're head on this big brass bed
We'll be all right
As long as you stay with me, yeah

Baby, there's just no use hiding
The way that I'm feeling right now
With you standing there baby I swear
I can't help but stare
Girl, you're wearin' me out, wearin' me out

Baby, stay with me
Share all your secrets tonight
We can make believe
Morning sun never will rise
Come and lay you're head on this big brass bed
We'll be all right
As long as you stay with me, yeah

Baby don't go
It looks like it's starting to rain
And it's so warm here in this apartment
Wrapped up in this blanket so stay

Stay with me
Share all your secrets tonight
We can make believe
Morning sun never will rise
Come and lay you're head on this big brass bed
We'll be all right
As long as you stay
I'm all right as long as you stay with me

Stay with me
