

Lullaby

Josh Groban

Hush now, baby, don't you cry
Rest your wings, my butterfly
Peace will come to you in time
And I will sing this lullaby

No, though I must leave, my child
But I would stay here by your side
And if you wake before I'm gone
Remember this sweet lullaby

And all love through darkness
Don't you ever stop me believing
With love forlorn
With love you'll find your way, my love

The world has turned the day to dark
I leave this night with heavy heart
When I return to dry your eyes
I will sing this lullaby
Yes, I will sing this lullaby
