

Lay Line

Josh Kelley

Drive across the highlands just to see your face
I'm not gonna back down just to fight it

I'm gonna stay here in case and get caught
On the highest wire fainting the night in fire
Whisper softly and tell me you love me
Ooh, tell me you love me, whisper softly
It's not enough to have you
If you return the love I gave

Oh, you'll get back your conscience
At a much inflated rate

We'll get caught on the highest wire
Fainting the night in fire
Whisper softly and tell me you love me
Ooh, tell me that you love me, whisper softly
It's not enough, don't play with me, baby
I'm not giving up unless you don't leave me anymore

You're my laying line
You're my laying line
You're my laying line
You're my laying line

You're my laying line
You're my laying line
You're my laying line
You're my laying line
