

Solid Ground

Josh Kelley

Thinking back to better days
Where the wrongs and the rights have faded gray
If I've told you once you've told me twice
How when love of both can turn the lies
It's so easy to turn my head around
But now I've beat the odds, got my feet on solid ground

It's so hard just movin' on
And being without you, it just seems so wrong
But time only heals our wounds
For me it takes time for you so soon
It's so easy to turn my head around
But now I've beat the odds, got my feet on solid ground

Falling further from where we used to be
And all things said and done, I needed to be free
'Cause it's so easy to turn my head and run
But now I've beat the odds, got my feet on solid ground

I'm better now without you hear
I've got a job and my mind is clear
From what I hear you want me back
But the tide has turned and I'm relaxed
It's so easy to turn my head around
But now I've beat the odds, got my feet on solid ground
But now I've beat the odds and I'm back on solid ground
But now I've beat the odds and I'm back on solid ground
