

Under The Covers

Josh Kelley

When I came home the back door was open and I overheard you talking with your friend Secret voices of conversation shattered my whole life into pieces

Maybe I'm falling
Falling into lies and deception
and it feels like I'm losing cause losing you would be like losing everything

Lets keep it under the covers
covers, covers, covers We'll keep it under the covers
covers, covers, covers
We'll keep it under the covers

Raindrops fall upon the window Waking up the liar in my bed Stealing another perfect moment
So many years of love it now feels dead

Maybe I'm falling
falling into lies and misdirection
and it feels like I'm losing
cause losing you would be like losing everything

We'll keep it under the covers
covers, covers, covers

What do you know
I know what you know I'll keep it below
under the threads
on top of our bed is where it will go I've made up my mind to get with the times and go with the flow

Maybe I'm falling

covers, covers, covers

She knows
Sit back and relax
I want to take it out back
take it out back now
Sit back and relax

and I wanna take it out back and she knows
