So don't cry

Southern style Things are slow You're watching all the speeding cars Moving like you wish you could But oh, it's too bad Cause they've drove away your happiness and good times But I'm gonna get you into the light And I'm gonna find a way that is right And I'm gonna get you into the light And make it okay Sad eyes You are the only one whose Whose blue skies are gray So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away You're so young And so bored You were staying out 'til late Cause it was what your husband hated But oh, it's too bad Cause he's stolen all your happiness and good times But I'm gonna get you into the light And I'm gonna find a way that is right And I'm gonna get you into the light And make it okay Sad eyes You are the only one whose Whose blue skies are gray So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away Yeah you could make them go away Took a lot of tears but all you had to find was Sympathetic years, the ones you left behind yeah Took a lot of tears but all you had to find was Sympathetic years, the ones you left behind yeah I'm gonna get you into the light And I'm gonna find a way that is right And I'm gonna get you into the light And make it okay Sad eyes You are the only one whose Whose blue skies are gray So don't cry You'll be the only one to make them go away yeah Sad eyes (Took a lot of tears but all) You are the only one whose (You had to find was) Whose blue skies are gray (Sympathetic years, the ones you left behind) You'll be the only one to make them go away Things are gonna go your way Yeah they're gonna go your way Oh they're bound to go your way
