

Know By Now

Josh Wilson

So it all went wrong
I started singing that sad, sad song
So convinced that I was on my own
But God I know
That You won't leave
Guess I let it slip my memory
Fast as I could count to 1 2 3 4
Forgetful me

Whoa, whoa, here I go again
Why do I forget, You're always faithful
Whoa, whoa, how many times have I seen
You give me just what I need
Whoa, whoa, here I go again
I forget, You're gonna work it out somehow
You think that I'd know by now

Well, I'd like to learn to live by faith
As the flowers of the field might say
Worry doesn't add a single day
Oh, God I pray
You'll help me see
When I'm looking at my history
All the ways You've taken care of me
I want to believe but

Whoa, whoa, here I go again
Why do I forget, You're always faithful
Whoa, whoa, how many times have I seen
You give me just what I need
Whoa, whoa, here I go again
I forget, You're gonna work it out somehow
You think that I'd know by now

That You are always in control
I should know by now
That You're gonna work it out
But this shadow of a doubt
Won't let me go

Whoa, whoa, here I go again
Why do I forget, You're always faithful
Whoa, whoa, how many times have I seen
You give me just what I need
Whoa, whoa, here I go again
I forget, You're gonna work it out somehow
You think that I'd know by now
