

One light shining bright, it's made from many colours.
Just like every ocean's made from many drop of rain.
One soul takes many shapes, to make up the human race.
One fire, many lives share the same sun every day.

Old beliefs let us down, many roads lead to heaven.
One love, many faiths all share the world in search of grace.
Across the universe, the same force that moves the earth's
In my heart, makes me whole, wash my doubt and fear away.

In a big deep blue sky on a beautiful day.
For the moment is now, there's perfection in every way.

Feel it flow from me,
Tantra my eyes can see,
Where we all belong,
Tantra watch over me.

Like a bird on a wing like the eye of a storm.
There's a circle of life when every child is born.
I get caught up in time lose all reality.
A prisoner of my own design,
Where my freedom is where I choose to be.

Look for some kind of sign from the heaven's above.
I hear one voice. I am the love I choose to love.

Feel it flow through me,
Tantra, my eyes can see,
Where we all belong,
Tantra, watch over me.

Like roses in bloom,
Like a Mountaintop majesty.
Like an Orange harvest moon,
Wonders for all to see.

Look for some kind of sign from the heaven's above.
I hear one voice. I am the love I choose to love.

Feel it flow through me,
Tantra, my eyes can see,
Where we all belong,
Tantra, watch over me.

Feel it flow through me,
Tantra, watch over me.

Across the universe the same force that moves the Earth's
In my heart, makes me whole, Wash my doubt and fear away.
