

Be Real

Joy Denalane

You don't have to promise me
A sweet life of luxury
Cause I done heard my share of prophecy
You don't have to spend your last dime
Just so we can wine and dine
Cause everything in life has it's place and time

And all I really ever wanted
Was a man who can understand
What this Woman truly needs
Just be real for me

You don't have to live up
To every expectation
You don't owe nobody an explanation
You don't have to spend your sleepless nights
Worried bout the times to come
Nothing we can't do as long as we are one

And all I really ever wanted
Was a man who can understand
What this Woman truly needs
Just be real for me

I'm so blessed to have you
Cause true companionship is hard to find
Someone to share my ups and downs
Darling, you're my peace of mind
Say you're my peace of mind
And all I ever want you to see is
You got to be real for me
