

We Mapped The World

Joy Williams

We were inches away
More like miles apart
And all the unspoken words to wall up our hearts
An infinite distance, a line in the ground
Did we travel this far just to turn back around?

Hope, breathe, touch, see
Reach

Did I find you?
Or did you find me?
Just an ordinary day,
That made history
And we missed the train
Didn't know what to do
So we mapped the world
In one afternoon

And I can't remember
A single word we said
But we both made our peace
And we boasted our heads
And we waved the white flags in this uncivil war
It's funny how love won't let you keep score

Hope, breathe, touch, see
Reach

So hope, need, feel,
Believe

Did I find you?
Or did you find me?
Just an ordinary day,
That made history
And we missed the train
Didn't know what to do
So we mapped the world
In one afternoon

Did I find you?
'Cause we missed the train
Didn't know what to do
So we mapped the world

Did I find you?
Or did you find me?
Just an ordinary day,
That made history
And we missed the train
Didn't know what to do
So we mapped the world
In one afternoon

We mapped the world
In one afternoon..
