Eulogy

Judas Priest

And so now it comes to pass By the eventide on mass See them gather yet alas They remain still as stained class

For they know only too well That the story they will tell Conjures up an ageless spell Guarded by the sentinel

So it goes forevermore Ever steady to the core That the sign that they came for Waves majestic from the floor