The People's Pal

Jughead's Revenge

Dealing with me A waste of your time You say that I'm an asshole I say get in line Inside your head you think I'm planning But I don't even think of you at all And for that I'm nailed through the balls I won't apologize For going off For calling your bluff For breaking all you throw in my way And I won't say sorry For ridding out No need to worry about You and the ones who say they know me I'm the one Unreasonably me Constantly bombarding negativity Inside your head you think I'm winning But I'm not even in the game at all Poor excuse for a person who failed to Live up to you I used to be the guy (Who'd) co-operate and comply For nothing more than to be Last in line Better you than me Dealing with you Is a waste of my time It gets me nothing more Than pissed off and behind Inside your head You think I'm responsible But I'm not even in your realm at all
