

Love, Sail Away

Juice Newton

I been adrift on the darkest ocean
Marooned by my heart's desire
I can't take no more emotion
I can't take no more tonight

Did you really have to shove me, baby?
A little push would have been just fine

Here comes another heartbreak
There goes my ship of love
Here on this sea of heartache
I think I'm gonna drown
Watching love sail away, sail away

The night was dark and the weather threatening
I thought you were my lifeline
But when the wave came up to get me
I couldn't find you by my side

Did you really have to shove me, baby?
A little push would have been just fine

Here comes another heartbreak
There goes my ship of love
Here on this sea of heartache
I think I'm gonna drown
Watching love sail away, sail away

Here comes another heartbreak
There goes my ship of love
Here on this sea of heartache
I think I'm gonna drown
Watching love sail away, sail away

Danger all around me
I think it's going to drown me
Watching love sail away
Watching love sail away, sail away

Ooh, sail away
Watching love sail away
Watching love, watch it sail away
Sail away
