

Red Blooded American Girl

Juice Newton

See me dancin' in the corner with all my best girlfriends Laughin' and singin' these are the days of Your innocence

All us boys want in your circle but we don't dare break in i'm leanin' against the wall thinkin'

While your laugh is still easy and your heart is still light
Why don't you dance with this red-blooded American girl
tonight
'Cause your life is just a breath and tonight is just the dance
So why don't you give this red-blooded American girl
the chance

A man stands beside me in my mind His hair has a touch of gray
Sometimes i just shut my mouth i know he knows what i'm gonna say
A look comes from his eyes only born of loving years Sometimes i open up my mouth and i fight back his tears Ii say

While your laugh is still easy and your heart is still
Why don't you dance with this red-blooded American girl
tonight

'Cause your life is just a breath and tonight is just
the dance
So why don't you give this red-blooded American girl
the chance

Oh baby i'm out of control
Don't know which way to run
Don't know which way to go

Oh these days it's getting harder to live We all need someone to hold onto Just hold onto me and i'll hold onto you

Dance with me - i wanna dance with you Oh oh oh

'cause your laugh is still easy and your heart is still
light
Why don't you dance with this red-blooded American girl
tonight

'Cause your life is just a breath and tonight is just one dance
So why don't you give this red-blooded American girl
the chance
Yes why don't you give this red-blooded American girl
the chance
