Towerblock

Julia Fordham

You make me feel vulnerable and totally exposed You make me feel like a teenager dressed in a woman's clothes And I ask you, and I ask you, where do we go from here?

All my life, I've been the one who's big and strong for everyon e Then you come along, a towerblock for me to lean on. And I ask you, where do we go from here?

You've got me so I'm curling like a kitten in your hand You've got me so I'm clawing like a tiger caged and bound And I ask you, and I ask you, where do we go from here?

All my life, I've been the one who's big and strong for everyon e Then you come along, a towerblock for me to lean on. And I ask you, where do we go from here?

All my life, I've been the one who's always there for everyone And now I know you've let me down, will it always be That I'm the only towerblock for me?
