

Akhenaten

Julian Cope

In the dawn's early light
I went out to the sun
I saw the sun rise over the land
I stretched my arms way out

Feeling the sun rays hitting my eyes
And I felt way out
I held my body in the shape of a cross
I was hypnotized

These were brand new feelings for me
Feeling my body in the shape of a cross
Feeling my body in the shape of a cross
And trying hard not to freak out

This is the lesson I've learned
I'm not afraid of the cross
And now whenever the sun shines
I stretch my arms way out
I stretch my arms way out
