

Lonely

Julian Lennon

When I wake up in the morning
With the sun above my head
I pull the blinds down slowly
The room seems almost dead

And I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again
Yes, I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again

I get up quickly, like a flash of light
I put my clothes on, neat and right
I work all day, I work at night
When do I find out, what I'm doing right?

And I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again
Yes, I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again

The time has come when I need to change
I don't know what to do, I'm really restless
My nerves are breaking
The lying feeling's coming through

And I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again
Yes, I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again

And I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again
Yes, I'm lonely, and I'm on my own again
