

Other Side Of Town

Julian Lennon

Open the door to me, it's raining outside
Drenched in life's misery tonight
This lonely night, day for day

With the stars falling at our feet
All the time
We were living down on easy street

She won't be home tonight
Because our luck has changed
And nothing stays the same

When the sky falls down
Does it make a sound
On the other side of town

So we live with less
Love and happiness
On the other side of town

I cry to sleep
Wondering who
Cradles you softly and true

Day for day with the stars falling at our feet
All the time
We were living down on easy street

She won't be home tonight
Because our luck has changed
Nothing stays the same

When the sky falls down
Does it make a sound
On the other side of town

So we live with less
Love and happiness
On the other side of town

When the sky falls down
Does it make a sound
On the other side of town

So we live with less
Love and happiness
On the other side of