

Touch The Sky

Julian Lennon

Hold your heart within your hands
Cope with what your life demands
But leave it all behind
Free yourself from all the lies
Free yourself from what's inside
But leave it all behind
Can't you see we're a part of destiny

We all want to touch the sky
We all ask the question
How do I survive will I be strong enough
We all need a helping hand
We all fall but then we stand
And show the strength I see in all of us
Every single day

Feel you hurt and feel your pain
We have lived a life of blame
But leave it all behind
Don't be frightened by your love
Always learn to rise above
But leave it all behind
Can't you see we're a part of destiny

We all want to touch the sky
We all ask the question
How do I survive will I be strong enough
We all need a helping hand
We all fall but then we stand
And show the strength I see in all of us
Every single day

Could there be a darker day
Love is lost as we decay
Beg for mercy as we pray forgiveness
Try to see the light ahead
Look around you all is dead
All of us have been misled
Forgive us now

We all want to touch the sky
We all ask the question
How do I survive will I be strong enough
We all need a helping hand
We all fall but then we stand
And show the strength I see in all of us

We all want to touch the sky
How do I survive will I be strong enough

I just hope and pray, peace will come one day
