Congratulations

Juliana Hatfield

I have a sweet creamy warm little jelly roll. I have a mind to just let my whole body go. Thought I was hungry but now I don't really know. If you don't want it you simply just say no.

I ain't an animal, lovable, huggable. You look so human but hey one can never tell. I got no secrets and I think that you should know Life ain't a party, it's not like a video.

"I am" he said to me "equally wary."

I don't know what I like only know what I don't. I don't like what I know only love what I don't. I know the fire but none of the afterglow. Killing the irony that's ruining rock+roll.

"I am" he said to me "equally wary."

Thinking of you as I lick the crumbs off the floor. Congratulations are due as you shut the door. Never began and so nor will it ever end. Only desire, desire not anything more.

I am He. He is me. I am He. He is me. Doo doo doo...