Mama Don't Cry

Julie Roberts

Mama don't cry, don't you worry about me I'm a little bit scared but I'm gonna be all right I've got the letter that you gave me folded in my pocket I've gotta feeling like I need to read it maybe one more time And let it ease my mind

It's a wide, wide world looking out this window Thirty thousand feet above the ground I grew up on Just a small town girl out here chasing rainbows Doing what I can to stand up on my own You taught me well, you raised me right So Mama don't cry

I remember standing at the end of the driveway Looking down that highway wondering how far it goes And I can feel your hand resting on my shoulder Hear you saying, baby, don't forget when you're grown That road will always lead you home

It's a wide, wide world looking out this window Thirty thousand feet above the ground I grew up on Just a small town girl out here chasing rainbows Doing what I can to stand up on my own You taught me well, you raised me right So Mama don't cry

[Instrumental Interlude]

It's a wide, wide world looking out this window Thirty thousand feet above the ground I grew up on Just a small town girl out here chasing rainbows Doing what I can to stand up on my own You taught me well, you raised me right So Mama don't cry
