

Dark And Lonely Man

Jump, Little Children

Dark and lonely, lonely man
Turn around pick a door and take your chance
The innocent breeze whispered in his ear
"Promises, promises", the old man leered

Dark and lonely, lonely man
"Take a bud from my side" the thin vine cried
The sinuous growth nestled in his hair
"Let me go, let me be", the man despairs

Dark and lonely, lonely man
"Where have you been?" the old tree began
"I have never known fear except for you, sad friend"
"I can't move, I can't move", he said about the bend

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Dark and lonely, lonely man
"Taste of my fruit if you only can"
Said the patient tree made of elephant wood
"I'm not hungry, won't eat, and I'm gone for good"

Dark and lonely, lonely man
"Will you ever smile?" said the breeze again
"Someday I think you will if you let us in"
"I'll try, I'll try", he whispered again

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Dark and lonely, lonely man
Turn around pick a door and take your chance
The innocent breeze whispered in his ear
"Promises, promises", the old man leered

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins

Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song

Light foot footstep shadow long secrets
Cover your face with your hats and your sequins
Light foot footstep shadow long gone
Cover your face when you're singing that song