Tell Me Why

Although I'll never deserve it I realize that You will give me all of Your love I couldn't ever return it I know that I could never give You reason enough Your love came over me You found the way to my heart Tell me why What have I done I got You Now You'll always be the one Tell me how Can this be true I'm with You Now I really wanna know Tell me why Let everybody believe it I want the world to see the kind of love that we've got Deep down in me I can feel it I'm gonna give You all I have and no matter what Your love came over me You found the way to my heart

I'm gonna wait no longer To show how I really feel My love is growing stronger You're all that I need You are my love for life Nothing can tear us apart
