

Back Home

Junior Doctor

I spend a lot of my time drinking
But I have to say I've spend more thinking
Of what we could be
And I'm not sure where to go now
Cause lately every time I close my eyes
I picture you and me

And I keep trying to run away, cause being here is killing me
I've never felt so alone

I'll never forget her
I gave up everything we had, and went out on my own
When the drugs never get me high enough
And this alcohol goes down so rough
I keep trying but I can't let her go
And I just wanna go back home

If only I could swallow my pride
Instead of trying to hide all this pain that I've been in My nights could be less cold and lonely
Cause lately every time I close my eyes, I picture you with him

Trapped motionless here, I wish I hadn't turned into this
For so long I thought if there's one thing I knew
Of all the things I would miss
You'd be the last on that list
But I found out what I miss the most is you
