

Beautiful And Blind

Junior Doctor

When the daylight fades, I only see the dark
She lies awake and counts the stars
When summer goes away, I only feel the cold
She looks for somebody to hold
She picks me up when I am breaking
Always finds me when I am lost

Her heart is built to take it
My heart is complicated
She thinks love is an easy thing to find
My heart has seen it all and
Her heart is beautiful and blind

When it falls apart
I feel like it's the end
She finds a way to start again
And after all the scars, when I feel so alone
She shows me how to let it go
She holds me down when I am shaking Won't give up when I'm giving in

To the way love makes a person beat down, weak
And so imperfect, she finds love in a place that I can't feel
She feels hope when it starts to fade away
Much too brave, and unafraid to fall
And she's so beautiful
Beautiful and blind

And I think she's changing my mind...
