

Perfect Girl (Make Her Mine)

Junior Doctor

A set of whites that have caught me in a trance
I don't recall anyone affecting me like this
I mean, I don't know anything at all
Except how badly I would love just to hold her hand
I've left the ground, and I'm not sure when I'm gonna land
I mean, I don't know anything at all

All I know is she's got, she's got

Something, something I need and my Heart beats, my heart beats me every time
I look in, look in her eyes and I
Won't be able to rest until I make her mine

So then I start to second-guess my confidence
From brain to mouth, the words stopped making any sense
Of course, I don't know anything at all
Except the room we're in growing smaller by the minute
And the fading voices of everyone within proving
I don't know anything at all
She's got me, there's nothing I can do to pull myself away
To be honest, I don't want to
With one look she steals my heart away
I'd do anything, cause she's got, she's got