

Save This Fakeness

Justifide

Try to find yourself and you fail once again
You won't find yourself in someone else
Try looking within, you don't know where to start
But you will get there

Save this fakeness for someone
Who wouldn't even notice the changes in you
'Cause they don't care about who you really are

Try to find yourself and there's hope once again
You won't give up after falling down
Find yourself within, trust your own heart
And it will show you

Save this fakeness for someone
Who wouldn't even notice the changes in you
'Cause they don't care about who you really are

Save this fakeness for someone
Who wouldn't even notice the changes in you
'Cause they don't care about who you really are
