

Carried You

Justin Nozuka

When did you unfold, slowly turn cold, and finalize your soul
I will not be the one to tell your Momma that her son has gone
From and out the moment we locked eyes I knew that this was wrong
I will not be the one to let you slip and watch you turn to stone

I carried you, carried you,
Carried down to the ground
I carried you
Mercy mercy mercy mercy

Sent a prayer to hold this coloured tone I knew had touched your soul

How can I be the one to bring you the Sun when I freed you of your bones
Oh no I will not let you go
I shall take my hand unto my heart
And leave this broken road
Everything I'll give to you
So we can dance the war, I'll let you lead
But let me take control

I carried you, carried you,
Carried down to the ground
I carried you
Mercy mercy mercy mercy

Heaven is only three blocks
Heave is only three blocks away

I carried you, carried you,
Carried down to the ground
I carried you
Mercy mercy mercy mercy

Heaven is only three blocks
Heaven is only three blocks away
