

Woman Put Your Weapon Down

Justin Nozuka

My baby is a rebel She's a rebel I was wrong
In between a hungry trigger
and the pounding of the wall
I'm reaching up towards the Heavens
but I'm holding onto hell
See facing Her in Heaven would be far worse than the devil himself
I know I'm foolish, I know I broke your Heart
I also know we can work through this I'll take You to the Stars
We'll fall in all like Rain and I'll hold you at the Bay We're rising up again We're at the Stars again

Oh no darling wait a moment
Listen to me breathing
Every time we touched I felt it
Baby please don't do it

Woman put your weapon down

Baby you're an Angel, I vowed it you're the One
But she made me so unstable, I swear I tried to run
But I was sinking in her quicksand, baby I'm a low man
Reaching out for Your hand
I promise nothing has changed
Remember high school, remember our first date
You and me in my room, you said you felt the same Making Love in Springtime, underneath the Moon Shine
Baby You're the Real kind, baby You're the Real kind

Oh no darling wait a moment
Listen to me breathing
Every time we touched, I meant it Baby please don't do this

Woman put your weapon down

Put your weapon, put your weapon down

My baby is a rebel She's a rebel I was wrong
In between a hungry trigger
and the pounding of the wall
I'm reaching up towards the Heavens
but I'm holding onto hell
See facing Her in Heaven would be far
worse than the devil himself

Put your weapon, put your weapon down
