

Return To You

Justin Vernon

well move over, i'm topped over. and i've let out more than just a casted light. i've busted something, i'm broken inside. this is where i go because you know me.

i return to you.

i'm like copper, you're like shoeshine. the best is yet to come, we've got a lot of time. alligators and armadillos, couldn't stop me from getting in through your door.

i return to you. i return to you.

i've just been through something, that's left me in pain. in truth cut me deeper than even you. now i realize, that pain and confusion, are much heavier than love.

so i return. so i return. so i return. so i return, to you.
