

Will You Be There

K'jon

Feels like the walls are close,
Everything is broken.
My son, my world, coming down on me
It's like a dream I can't wake up from
I keep on running, and wait 'till the morning comes!
Maybe tomorrow is different
Maybe when I wake up and I see you
It will make a difference!
Maybe you'll save me from drowning,
but you can't see the tears from all the rain.

[Chorus:]

I've been going through some things
Been dealing with some changes
But girl I got one question, will you be there?
When a man sick and tired
And this world is set on fire
After all that's said and done
Will you be there?
Will you be there?

Sometimes I can't stop from thinking
Used to think that drinking was the answer to me
Sinking in my sorrows, an if its a tomorrow will i be around or consume this swallowed maybe i go back to the bottom

[Chorus]

All alone, I'm so alone, baby
Baby I need you here!
..who knows
I said that you'll be here
I need some paper
You're my necessity
.. will you be there for me?

[Chorus]
