Live For Real

Life has always been a pretty song And pretty loud You're so beautiful Why is it fading out I don't want to live forever But as long as I do I'd love to live for real Now the boy who dried your tears Is crying all the time Now the joy I've had for years Has left me for a while I don't want to live forever But as long as I do I'd love to live for real With you I might get there With you I might start to feel With you I will get there With you I will live for real I will breathe the air, I'll dance And you will wonder why It's because you made me see This chance was moving by Because I'm not going to live forever But as long as I do I'd love to live for real With you I might get there With you I might start to feel With you I will get there With you I will live for real When a cloud becomes my head Play your music loud instead And we'll dance until The both of us are dead
