

Take My Hand

K-Young

You wanted to break me
Thought you would make me your fool nooooo oo Drowning in her love I slept in the deep end of the pool, now I'm gasping for air

You promised you would be my perfect girl, but we live in such an imperfect world.
So I pressed the wrinkles in my linen all, I fell for you

Baby please don't say no more you'll get what your body ac aching for, I will cry a river like a shore, I fell for you

Take my hand and well go oooooo
So I ease on down, yellow brick, yellow brick roooooad

I wish I was the tin man and didn't have a heart, because then,
and only then, it wouldn't torn apart, still I neglected reality I'm thinking back now realizing you never respected me

You promised you would be my perfect girl, but we live
in such an imperfect world.
So I pressed the wrinkles in my linen all, I fell for
you

body ac aching for, I will cry a river like a shore, I
fell for you

Take my hand and well go oooooo
So I ease on down, yellow brick, yellow brick roooooad

Through the hallway, I can hear the sounds sayin say it again
its craazy in more waays
I guess that's what I get never trust a bithch

Take my hand and well go oooooo
So I ease on down, yellow brick yellow brick rooooooad
