Above The Weak

The preach the rules of love and peace Begging in the dust on knees If you're forever banned from heaven Your debts cannot be forgiven Hell awaits you for your sin But earthly life will make you king!

Rise above the weak, find the focus of your hate Then you will defeat the rulers of your fate! Rise above! Fight the weak! Rive above! Fight the weak!

Be the blacksmith of your fortune No one needs your absolution, no!

A carpenter you follow blind With charity just on your mind It is you who leads this life Don't hesitate to stand and fight! Be the one you would not live Ignore the rest and stand above!

You have to choose your way of life You can choose between darkness and fight Make your choice tonight And see darkness shine so bright! Come on and follow me!
