

Suicide

Kai Tracid

Have you ever thought about committing suicide? Leaving the world behind?

The sorrow, the pain and the fear of the unknown future, delivering from any human needs and pressure in just one second

, your cry for help is lost in this lonely world in which you are completely alone, nobody helps you when you're feeling down and the loneliness is breaking your heart.

It would be so simple to go down the stairs of the final way but the fear of the unknown world beyond, of having nothing, of being nothing keeps you on your designated way and takes away your longing for self-destruction.

That is why you will never commit suicide.
