Listen carefully

As I introduce You to a world like no other A world far beyond your wildest imagination A place where your dreams come to life Far away from the place where evolution is the key to your surv ival

Relax

As you drift deep into your own thoughts Contemplate the reason you exist Will the value of your triumph's today be worth the same tomorr ow? Or will it self destruct and destroy the human race as you know it? Will you control your life? Or will your life control you?

Now follow me freely As i lead you to My own reality
