

Sometimes you wanna get away from your life,
Sometimes you wanna get away from the horizon
In your eyes

I've fallen off the bottom of your timeline,
I know you've found a better way of spending your life,
Well it's your life

I never won it, I didn't need it,
Now it feels like this is my life.
I never won it, I didn't need it,
Now it feels like this is my life.

I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.
I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.

I woke up in my clothes before the sunrise
I walk along the sand with my shoes in my hand to the daylight
And the real life.

The fishermen are heading out to ocean,
The café on the turns of the earth flips the sign round to open,
And it goes on.

I never won it, I didn't need it,
Now it feels like this is my life.
I never won it, I didn't need it,
Now it feels like this is my life.

I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.
I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.

You can tell we had a hell of a life,
You can tell we had one hell of a time,
You can see we had a colourful one from our eyes,
You can tell there is another to come in our eyes.

You can tell we had a hell of a life,
You can tell we had one hell of a time,
You can see we had a colourful one from our eyes,
You can tell there is another to come.

I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.
I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.

I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.
I can work it out, I can live without the night
This is my life, this is my life.
