Run Run Run

Kalan Porter

Do you ever stop to think about lines that run, run, run?
And fall past each other on the edge

You went and found your distance
With your plans, plans, plans
Wasted time wasted
You make me laugh before I cry

Have you seen the world's been falling down?
I know you've got the time to care
But if you want to run, run, run
If you want to run, run, run

Do you ever stop to think about when we would run, run, run?
And fall, fall in the whites
They cut us in, they cut us out

Have you seen the world's been falling down
I know you've got the time to care
But if you want to run, run, run
If you want to run run run

Let your spirit fly
Don't you fly too high
When your wings fall to ground
You never see it come
'Cause you're always moving on
Don't be afraid to come where you belong

Have you seen the world's been falling down?
I know you've got the time to care
But if you want to run, run, run
If you want to run, run, run
