

The Prophecy

Kaledon

Angels and Demons,
White and Black,
There is no good, without Evil,
And then, Daeniel the Great

What good is and what evil is?
Only the ways of destiny...

But open eyes can see
A Great has risen to the Throne
A Great will rise from the depths of the ground
And great will be the battle... between the Great...
... between the Great...
... between the Great...
