Descent of the Archangel

Speak my friend You look surprised I thought you knew I'd come disguised On angel wings in white I can make Your dreams come true What a couple Me and you On journey through the night I will show you everything so vividly You can't deny me Bathed in moonlight I'm proclaimed by angels cry Think well Do take your time Because your soul Will be mine the day you die Name a pleasure One a few Any form Of lust in you Will tremble at my touch I come down from heaven's light I have all the perfect alibis There's so much I will show you everything so vividly You won't deny me Bathed in moonlight I'm proclaimed by angels cry Think well Do take your time Because your soul Will be mine the day you die Call my name or carry on Till that last resistance' gone I'm sure we'll meet again I'm your true disciple
