

House On A Hill

Kamelot

Call me a liar, a king or a fool
But sing me a song of prosperity
Higher and higher the further we fall
Hard to remember

I will surrender and I'll always wait
Wait as a
Of eternity

Hard to remember, and hard to forget
The shadow that hangs over me

Take me Home, to a House on a hill, in Oblivion
And take away the shadow over me

Cry me a river but once you are dry
Say there's a reason you do

Smothered and broken
All that I wanted was you.

Take me Home, to a House on a hill, in Oblivion
Will souls ever die all alone
Loving for love, not for sympathy
So take away the shadow over me

Under the starlight you shine
In solitude
Eyes in the ocean and far beyond
West of the moon

Take me Home, to a House on a hill, in Oblivion
Will souls ever die all alone
Loving for love, not for sympathy
Over the hills

Home, to your House on a hill, to Oblivion
Will souls ever die all alone
Loving for love, not for sympathy
So take away the shadow over me!
