

Tow Truck

Karate

I'm at a stand still It's 98 degrees
Can't put one thing into my car Nothing's gonna stop the steam
I got my hands up
No other price to compare Held up by the tow truck that drops me at the bus stop With just enough left to pay the fare

He said "They com from down south Just trying to take my job Coming in from all sides, looking for a free ride You know we're all getting robbed"
Up on the dashboard
There was a cross an a flag Now I don't want nothing from anyone's God But from my country I want better than that

Because I hear that each and every day
from channels 3 to 39
I already heard your opinion,
When are you gonna hear mine?

Finally, I said "Look,
This is more than I need to know Please keep your opinions to yourself All I need is a ride and a tow"
He said "Boy, you're in my truck
You better watch what you say" I said, "Yeah, do my ideas make your mad? Well now you know how I'm feeling every day"

Because I hear that each and every day
from channels 3 to 39
I already heard your opinion,
mine?
