I don't dream in my bed
These days I'll sleep alone instead
And I'm so far, far from me
In the deepest, darkest sea

I hope the wind will carry you Into the blue Feathered wings will hold you I hope the wind will carry you Back to the start Life below is too hard

I don't call your name anymore
I can't take the wait like I did before
Now you take my heart, remind me
You'll be the death of me

Then my heart, it turned cold I had to walk away alone And you're so far, far from home These stars, they will shine on

I hope the wind will carry you Into the blue Feathered wings will hold you I hope the wind will carry you Back to the start Life below is too hard

I don't call your name anymore
I can't take the wait like I did before
Now you take my heart, remind me
You'll be the death of me

I don't call your name anymore
I can't take the wait like I did before
Now you take my heart, remind me
You'll be the death of me
You'll be the death of me
